Join CT KASA!

KASA (Kids As Self Advocates) is a national, grassroots project created by young people with disabilities for young people with disabilities. CT KASA is open to anyone with a disability ages 13 to 26.

What CT KASA Can Do for YOU

CT KASA participants learn how to advocate for themselves and take control over their own lives. CT KASA helps this happen by teaching young people about their rights and how to change the systems that affect their lives.

CT KASA Activities Will Include:

- Monthly meetings (available via face to face, webinar or conference call)
- Working on a personal development plan
- Representing the voice of young people with disabilities at public events
- Group youth leadership projects

Interested?

There will be an informational conference call about CT KASA for young people and their parents in March 2015. Kick off meeting will be in April 2015. Details are forthcoming.
